SPEEDMASTER "SILVER SNOOPY AWARD"
50TH ANNIVERSARY: SNOOPY
CELEBRATES HALF A CENTURY
IN SPACE ORBIT

IN 1970, THE ASTRONAUTS AT NASA GAVE OMEGA THE "SILVER SNOOPY AWARD", A PRIZE THAT SIGNIFIED THE AERONAUTICAL WORLD'S RECOGNITION OF THE BRAND'S CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE AREA OF SPACE EXPLORATION AND, IN PARTICULAR, OF THE SPEEDMASTER'S ROLE IN SAVING APOLLO 13.

A special timepiece has been created 50 years later to celebrate the anniversary of the highest honour awarded by NASA to one of its suppliers. To accurately represent the iconic style of the Speedmaster, OMEGA is offering a 42 mm case in stainless steel inspired by the legendary 4th generation chronograph (famous for being the first watch to be worn on the Moon).

The symbol Ag925 is laser-engraved on the dial, which features an embossed silver medallion of the beloved beagle on the blue counter at 9 o'clock. He is wearing his famous spacesuit, exactly as depicted on the Silver Snoopy Award pin.

The legendary tachymeter scale in white enamel on a blue ceramic [ZrO2] bezel ring includes a nod to the history of the Speedmaster with a dot over the numeral 90. The colour scheme continues on the silver dial with blue PVD angled hour markers and hands.

Meanwhile, the NAIAD LOCK system ensures that all case back engravings remain in an upright position, including the tributes to Apollo 13 and to the Silver Snoopy Award. OMEGA received the award seven months after the Speedmaster helped save the crew of Apollo 13.

The lining of the blue nylon fabric strap matching the other blue elements on the watch depicts the trajectory of the Apollo 13 mission, including the famous slingshot around the far side of the Moon.

Snoopy appears on the case back inside his Command and Service Module (CSM) on a magical hand. While the chronograph seconds hand is running, Snoopy takes a trip around the far side of the Moon, which is represented on the NASA's mascot Snoopy has been bringing luck to astronauts for more than half a century. Representing the total success of missions, he keeps things light even in very serious situations. sapphire crystal using a unique micro-structured metallisation technique. The Earth is also depicted on a disc that rotates once per minute in sync with the watch's small seconds hand. The timepiece is powered by OMEGA Co-Axial Master Chronometer 3861, the latest version of the famous Moonwatch movement. It took four years to develop a calibre able to achieve Master Chronometer certification while maintaining the dimensions of the previous Moonwatch movement, calibre 1861.

IN THE PRESENT.

Following two limited edition anniversary models, namely the TAG Heuer Carrera Heuer 02 160 Years Limited Edition and the TAG Heuer Carrera 160 Years Montreal Limited Edition, four new Carrera Sport models are joining this timeless collection along with four other chronographs in September and two special editions by the end of the year. The quintessential racing chronograph since 1963, the TAG Heuer Carrera has been revamped once again in a series of models that are both modern and timeless. These new models, which are characterised by their extraordinary timekeeping functions and their racing elegance, mark the start to a new era for this legendary model. The unique history of this collection inspired by the world's most dangerous motor race, the Carrera Panamericana, is subtly expressed in the outstanding design of today's models. The brand sought to create an understated chronograph with pure lines and perfect proportions, optimal characteristics for drivers who need to be able to read the time at a glance in the midst of a race.

Carrera Sport: A vibrant tribute

Decades later, these new versions continue to embody a true “race-car dashboard for the wrist”, designed to meet the technical demands of the world's drivers and to reflect their style. The lugs have been shortened for enhanced comfort while the 44 mm stainless steel case alternates polished and brushed finishes to make the watch appear slimmer and sleeker. Moreover, the integration of the glass and the discreet bevelling adds a touch of additional elegance. The dial of the new TAG Heuer Carrera features a circular brushed finish and comes in deep blue with a matching ceramic bezel, in khaki green with a stainless steel bezel or in one of two black versions, each with a discreet black ceramic bezel. The bevelled flange and the indexes slanting towards the centre of the dial draw the wearer's eye to the time, allowing it to be read at a glance. The three sub-dials are perfectly legible, as is the date window at 6 o'clock. The hour counter at 9 o'clock now displays the numerals 12, 4 and 8 and forms a lovely counterbalance to the minute counter at 3 o'clock. Lastly, the new H-shaped bracelet is thinner and hence lighter and more ergonomic. The redesigned models are powered by the Calibre Heuer 02, which can be seen through the transparent case back. This remarkable watchmaking innovation is entirely Swiss made at TAG Heuer's production facility in Chevenez. The in-house automatic movement is comprised of 168 components, including a column wheel and a vertical clutch –hallmarks of exceptional haute horlogerie movements–, and boasts an impressive 80-hour power reserve.

Polished and fine-brushed stainless steel case water-resistant to 100 metres.

THE DARK HOURS

The Longines Master Collection Black “barleycorn” dial

This timepiece features a round 44 mm case fitted with a transparent case back that reveals the grace of its mechanical self-winding movement, which beats at 28,800 vibrations per hour and builds up a power reserve of 54 hours. It comes with a black “barleycorn” dial with three sub-dials: central seconds hand, 30-minute counter at 3 o’clock, 12-hour counter at 6 o’clock, date window at 4:30.

Omega Speedmaster Moonwatch Chronograph Black Ceramic

This 44.25 mm model in black ceramic sports an ALINGHI logo in red varnish on the stop/start pusher. The watch has a tachymeter scale coated in Super-LumiNova and is set on a perforated black rubber strap with a red rubber interior. The Calibre 1865, which is visible through the skeletonised dial, has been laser-ablated with a honeycomb effect on the mainplate and barrel bridge, while a black carbon pattern is found on all other bridges. All of these details are inspired by the hull of the ALINGHI TF35 catamaran.

IWC Pilot's Watch Automatic Spitfire Stainless Steel - Black

The new IWC-manufacture 32110 calibre is what powers this watch that remains true to the clean design of the famous Mark 11 navigation watch created in 1948 for the British Royal Air Force. Its self-winding movement has bidirectional pawl-winding that builds up a power reserve of 72 hours. The 39 mm case in stainless steel, the black dial and the brown calfskin strap recall the colours found in the Spitfire's cockpit.

Breitling Chronomat B01 42, Stainless Steel - Black

This model, a stylish celebration of the brand's centenary, is available in a range of black, blue silver and copper dials. This black version has a reverse “panda” dial evoking the world of motor racing from the 1960s and 70s. In celebration of 100 years, it remains true to its roots, in particular thanks to the hand-winding movement housed in its 42 mm case.

Breitling Premier Automatic Day & Date Stainless Steel - Black

Designed by Willy Breitling in the 1940s, the Premier abounds in elegant details with a good dose of retro-modern accents. This reinterpretation sports a black dial that comes either with a matching strap or with a choice of alligator or nubuck calfskin straps with a pin or folding buckle. The piece is powered by Breitling Calibre 45, a COSC-certified chronometer.

Oris 57th Reno Air Races Limited Edition Black Dial

This 1000-piece limited edition has a case measuring 41 mm in diameter that houses a black dial featuring centre hands for hours, minutes, seconds and 24 hours, date window, instantaneous date, date and 24 hour corrector, fine timing device and stop-second. It is driven by a self-winding movement with a 42-hour power reserve. The piece is attached to a black textile strap with a grey PVD-plated stainless steel folding buckle that pairs perfectly with the rest of the watch.

Tissot PR 100 Sport Gent Chronograph Black Dial

Combining a timeless design with sporty elegance, this chronograph houses an ETA G10.212 quartz movement contained within a case measuring 42 mm in diameter. Its black dial has three sub-dials, a date window and central hour, minute and seconds hands, all of which are protected by a scratchproof sapphire crystal. The watch is set on a brown leather strap with white stitching that contrasts nicely with the look of the dial and gives the piece a retro air.

Tissot Supersport Chrono PVD Black

The Tissot Supersport Chrono's straight-lined lugs and imposing 45.5 mm case give the piece a strong personality. The black dial's SuperLuminova®-coated indexes and asymmetric appliques create a powerful 3D effect while enhancing readability in the dark. The hand-sewn vintage leather strap perfectly complements the piece, giving it a sporty, on-trend look. The watch is powered by a Swiss-made quartz movement and is a great accessory for modern-day gentlemen.

IWC

TAKES OFF WITH THE PORTUGIESE PERPETUAL CALENDAR

IN THE LATE 1930S, TWO PORTUGUESE MERCHANTS ORDERED WRISTWATCHES FROM IWC INTERNATIONAL WATCH CO., SPECIFYING THAT THEY HAD TO BE AS PRECISE AS A MARINE CHRONOMETER. AT THE TIME, THIS ORDER COULD ONLY BE FILLED BY USING A VOLUMINOUS POCKET WATCH MOVEMENT.

IWC Portugieser
Perpetual Calendar

A constantly reinvented classic
As a result, the watchmakers at IWC put a “hunter” movement, calibre 74, which already had the winding crown on the right, in a wristwatch case. When the first “large wristwatch” made its appearance, it was ahead of its time, both technically and aesthetically. It was technically excellent, because the larger balance found in pocket watches set a new standard for precision in wristwatches. It was unique on an aesthetic level, because at the time, the public sought Art Deco style wristwatches that were as dainty and rectangular as possible. Today, nearly 80 years and countless watch masterpieces later, the Portugieser models are among IWC’s most coveted pieces. No other family of watches brings together so many manufacturing skills. Featuring simple Arabic numerals, a railway-track chapter ring and a balanced dial, its timeless and unique design has made it an icon of the art of watchmaking. Grande Complication, Tourbillon Hand-Wound... The collection has been growing year after year to accommodate ever-more-innovative models. This is the case of the Portugieser Perpetual Calendar, a calendar that only requires correction once every 577.5 years!

Extraordinary performance

A total of 383 components, 54 jewels,

168-hour power reserve... This marvel of watchmaking is powered by a movement from the in-house IWC 52000 calibre family with an oscillating weight in solid red gold complemented by blued screws. It displays the date, the day of the week, the month, the year in four digits, the moon phase and the power reserve as well as small seconds. Its round red gold case measuring an ample 44.20 mm in diameter houses a silvered dial with an arched edge protected by an anti-reflective sapphire glass. The watch is set on a dark brown alligator strap.

SEAWEED

ON YOUR PLATE

CONSUMED FOR THOUSANDS OF YEARS IN ASIA, SEAWEED IS SLOWLY MAKING ITS WAY ONTO EUROPEAN MENUS. WAKAME, ROYAL KOMBU, SPIRULINA... SEAWEED ENTICES WITH ITS EXTRAORDINARY NUTRITIONAL POTENTIAL THAT COMBINES PHYTOETHERAPY AND GASTRONOMY TO THE DELIGHT OF GOURMETS AND ATHLETES ALIKE. A QUICK OVERVIEW.

Wakame, the seaweed for expectant mothers

This brown seaweed has high levels of vitamin B9, calcium and iron, all of which are beneficial nutrients during pregnancy. It must be consumed with moderation, however, as too much iodine can harm the foetus.

How to cook wakame: Sliced in miso soups, blanched in salads.

Chef's tip: In the form of flakes, you can sprinkle it on cold dishes with vinegar or lemon juice.

Royal Kombu, a slimming ally

Used in many Chinese and Japanese dishes, Kombu, like most seaweed, is noted for its high iodine content. Its chemical composition rich in calorie-free natural sugars makes it a good choice for diabetics and those on a diet. Moreover, its high fibre content satiates the appetite and aids in digestion.

How to cook Royal Kombu: Firm and almost crunchy, Kombu can be eaten in salads, with rice or potatoes, or as a wrap for meat and fish. It is also a flavour enhancer, with its glutamate and sodium enhancing the natural flavour of any dish.

Chef's tip: You can blanch it for several minutes in boiling water to reduce the iodine content.

Sea lettuce, a stress-relieving snack

Rich in calcium (it contains thirty times as much as milk), ulva lactuca is excellent for when you're feeling fatigued. It helps alleviate anxiety and effectively relieves muscle cramps.

How to cook sea lettuce: It is eaten raw or cooked like wakame. It can be thinly sliced and served with fish.

Chef's tip: To make it easier to chew, use it in stews.

Spirulina, rich in protein

Rich in beta-carotene, iron, phosphorous, magnesium, zinc..., this microalgae is usually grown in fresh water and is ideal in cases of deficiencies. A good option for vegans and vegetarians, it contains up to 70% protein.

How to cook spirulina: In powder, sticks or flakes, it can be added to soups, salads and juices.

Chef's tip: Unlike macroalgae, spirulina is not a culinary algae and may not be to the liking of some. If that's the case, take it as a dietary supplement.

With its small islands, granite rocks sculpted by the waves and fishing villages, Sweden's west coast is full of lovely spots. Specialised companies like Catxalot offer workshops and activities related to seaweed, this nutrient-rich marine plant. Harvesting, which is both easy and safe, begins in spring and is a great activity for children.

RADO CAPTAIN COOK BRONZE AUTOMATIC

AN INVITATION TO SET OFF FOR MODERN-DAY
EXPLORERS

With its vintage details, its true-to-the-original style and its modern functions, the Captain Cook is built to stand the test of time.

Cook's Islands.

PRODUCED BETWEEN 1962 AND 1968, AND SOUGHT-AFTER AT THE TIME BY COLLECTORS FOR ITS INWARD SLOPING BEZEL, THE CAPTAIN COOK IS RETURNING TO THE SCENE IN A BRONZE CASE FOR A PERFECT COMBINATION OF OLDER AND MODERN MATERIALS.

An original look from 1962 is brought to life in a new and improved form for the 21st century. The case has been increased from 37 to 42 mm, while its water resistance allows wearers to descend to a depth of 300 metres versus the 100 metres allowed by its predecessor. Its bronze case stands out as a discreet tribute to the early days of scuba diving, as this material was used to make the very first diving suits. The dial continues to bear the arrow- and sword-shaped hands characteristic of the collection. A further nod to the original model is the three-seahorse motif found on the case back of the diving watch. The brand, which specialises in ceramic materials with exceptional technical and aesthetic properties, has opted to modernise some of the elements. Indeed, the unidirectional rotating bezel in bronze is thus fitted with a high-tech ceramic insert. In addition, the green dial (which is also available in blue and brown) is protected by an anti-reflective scratch-resistant sapphire glass that allows you to admire the passage of time and the window at 3 o'clock showing the date printed in red. The watch is driven by a self-winding movement that builds up a generous power reserve up to 80 hours. The watch comes with an attractive green leather strap with white stitching that goes perfectly with the bronze case and green dial.

THE ASTRON FAMILY

IS EXPANDING WITH THE NEW SEIKO ASTRON GREEN X GOLD LIMITED EDITION GPS SOLAR TITANIUM WATCH

Seiko Astron SSH071J1

THE HISTORY OF SEIKO BEGAN IN 1881 WHEN 22-YEAR-OLD ENTREPRENEUR KINTARO HATTORI OPENED HIS CLOCK REPAIR SHOP IN TOKYO. DETERMINED TO ENSURE THAT SEIKO IS ALWAYS "ONE STEP AHEAD OF THE REST", HE FOUNDED THE "SEIKOSHA" FACTORY 11 YEARS LATER AND MADE THE FIRST MECHANICAL WATCH IN THE LAND OF THE RISING SUN. FIFTY-SIX YEARS LATER, SEIKO INVENTED THE QUARTZ WATCH.

The first television watch, the first watch driven by triband radio waves, the first watch specifically designed for spacewalking... The company is distinguished by its impressive track record with the clearly stated aim of competing with major Swiss brands.

The Seiko Astron collection is no exception to the rule, opening up a new era in watchmaking technology, given that, since it is powered by solar energy, the battery never needs to be replaced. Yet the company is going even further in its quest for perfection with the new Seiko Astron Green X Gold Limited Edition GPS Solar Titanium Watch, the world's first GPS solar timepiece. The Astron connects to the GPS network at the touch of a button to adjust to your time zone.

Power reserve indicator, date window, perpetual calendar until February 2100, DST (Daylight Saving Time), reception result display, satellite acquisition status display, automatic hand position alignment function, overcharge prevention function, dual time display, world time (39 time zones), power save function... This new model combines superior watchmaking with superior technology in its 42.8 mm stainless steel case. Its green dial is fitted with a sapphire crystal with super-clear coating, thus ensuring unmatched resistance to scratches and shocks. In the centre, two silver hands reliably point to the hours and minutes. Meanwhile, the hour markers are coated in LumiBrite luminescent treatment to make it easier to read the time in dark places. The passing of seconds are indicated by a longer sweep seconds hand in yellow. Two black sub-dials are positioned at 9 and 3 o'clock, the first of which is multi-function while the second indicates the day of the week. Meanwhile, there is a third counter located at 6 o'clock framed in yellow to match to seconds hand that indicates the second time zone. There is also a date window between 4 and 5 o'clock.

The time can be set as desired using a notched crown at 3 o'clock, which is flanked by push-buttons at 2 and 4 o'clock used to adjust the model's many functions. Lastly, the screw-down case back on this 2000-unit limited edition ensures the water resistance to 200 metres of this timepiece powered by calibre 5X53.

GETAWAY TO SKÅNE

Perhaps you've been on your way all these years without realising it? It's just as easy to lose your way inside yourself as it is to get lost in the woods or in a city.
Italian Shoes - Henning Mankell

Örtofta Castle © Apelöga/imagebank.sweden.se

WITH LUSH FORESTS, LAKES, FISHING VILLAGES AND RENAISSANCE CASTLES, SOUTHERN SWEDEN IS FULL OF PICTURESQUE LANDSCAPES.

Considered the country's breadbasket, Skåne is one of the most fertile agricultural regions in Northern Europe. Its far-stretching fields, coastal cliffs, green hills and deserted white sand beaches make it a popular destination for Swedes and foreign travellers alike.

Impressive sightseeing and breathtaking natural reserves

With its 300 castles and gardens dating from the 12th to the 19th centuries, Skåne offers a wide range of choices in terms of cultural visits and outings. Wanås Castle in the lovely cobbled town of Kristianstad has a large park, magnificent statues and a lake. Smaller in size, the medieval Örtofta Castle serves as a guesthouse, as is the case with many traditional farms. For lovers of the great outdoors, Kullaberg Nature Reserve and Stenshuvud National Park are extraordinary places for hiking, diving, kayaking and fishing. Stroll around the heathlands and climb the rocks sculpted by the waves that flow into the Baltic. Listen to the cracking of trees as tortured as the characters in Wuthering Heights. Perhaps here, at the edge of Europe, between the sky and the sea, you will feel the Swedish soul and understand the country's close relationship with nature.

Golf and a tennis tournament

Golf and tennis enthusiasts will not be left out, as Skåne has no fewer than 70 golf courses, most of which are open year round thanks to the mild climate and are considered some of the most beautiful in Northern Europe. The town of Båstad on the Bjäre Peninsula attracts visitors from around the world, especially in July during the week of the annual ATP tennis tournament.

TISSOT

CELEBRATES THE GOLDEN AGE OF MANHOOD
WITH A TIMEPIECE THAT WILL MAKE YOU
SHINE ON EVERY OCCASION.

TISSOT IS A SWISS WATCH BRAND FOUNDED IN 1853. IN 1925, IT BECAME ONE OF THE FIRST MEMBERS OF THE SWATCH GROUP. BASED IN LE LOCLE, SWITZERLAND, THE COMPANY MAKES AUTOMATIC, MECHANICAL AND QUARTZ WATCHES.

For more than 150 years, Tissot has been combining innovative technologies and affordable prices, its formula for becoming the most important seller of traditional Swiss watches in the world.

Tissot Gentleman Powermatic 80 Silicium Solid 18K Gold Bezel

Versatile, elegant and ergonomic, the Tissot Gentleman looks just as good with a suit as it does with a more casual outfit, making it the perfect piece for a professional meeting or an evening with friends. It suits both younger and older wearers and can be worn on any occasion. It has an excellent price to quality ratio, especially considering the 5.5 grams of gold that adorns the watch.

This fine material not only attracts eyes and warms the colouring of the Tissot Gentleman, but also offers a bold contrast with the black dial. Its case measuring 40 mm in diameter and 10.64 mm thick is elongated by two strong curved horns that ensure that the piece wraps more comfortably around the wrist.

The dial boasts four notable features. There is a central marking in the line of sight that makes it easier to read the time and provides a contemporary look to the models in the collection. Meanwhile, there are satin-brushed and polished bevelled applied markers accentuated by faceted golden dauphine hands and a date window at 3 o'clock, revealing the subtle originality of the dial. These stunning golden pink features pair perfectly with the warmth of the 18-carat rose gold bezel. A fine minute track ensures that seconds can be read accurately. Meanwhile, the words "Powermatic 80 Silicium" reminds us that the Gentleman is fitted with a quality Swiss-made calibre with a generous power reserve.

Finally, a black leather strap adds vintage accents to this model made for Gentlemen.

Breitling Chronomat B01 42 Bentley
Stainless Steel – Green

Fitted with a 42 mm case and its signature 4-rider bezel, the Chronomat Bentley celebrates the long-term partnership with Bentley with an iconic green dial. Longines Spirit Prestige Edition – Blue
Since the beginning of aviation, Longines has been accompanying adventurers of the skies on their aerial feats. It is hence little wonder that the new Longines Spirit features a blue dial, which is protected by a scratchproof sapphire glass and nestled in a 40 mm case. The timepiece is powered by a self-winding mechanical movement that beats at 25,200 vibrations per hour and builds up a 64-hour power reserve.

THE COLOURS OF TIME

Oris Divers Sixty-Five X Momotaro

Water resistant to 100 metres, this 40 mm timepiece in stainless steel comes with a rotating bezel and a screw-down crown and solid case back. The timepiece boasts a gradient dial, which is brighter in the centre and gradually darkens to the match the colour of the black bezel, and is finished off with an indigo denim strap designed by the iconic Japanese brand Momotaro.

Tissot Chrono XL Classic

Larger-than-life, the Tissot Chrono XL is noted for its imposing case measuring 45 mm in diameter. Its stunning blue dial displays hour, minute, seconds, date and chronograph functions powered by a Swiss-made quartz ETA G10.212 calibre.

IWC Portugieser Chronograph – Slate

With its compact 41 mm diameter, this iconic IWC chronograph perfectly suits nearly all wrists. The slate dial on this version has applied gold Arabic numerals and leaf-shaped hands. The timepiece is printed with a quarter-second scale, a characteristic flange that not only ensures precise reading of the chronometer, but also recalls the instrument's origins. The IWC-manufactured 69355 calibre powers this elegant and sporty chronograph.

OMEGA Seamaster Aqua Terra Co-Axial Master Chronometer – Grey blue

A wonderful tribute to OMEGA's extensive maritime heritage, the back of the symmetrical 41 mm case crafted in stainless steel features a wave edge design. Meanwhile, on the front, the dial has a horizontal "teak" pattern evoking the wooden decks of luxury sailboats. Additional details include blued hands and hour markers filled with white Super-LumiNova and a date window at 6 o'clock. The piece is driven by OMEGA Master Chronometer calibre 8900.

Certina DS Super PH500M

With its retro style and orange dial, this model is sure to attract attention. Its range of functional features including its magnetic field-resistant Nivachron™ balance spring and water resistance of up to 500 metres makes this 43 mm diver's watch the ideal companion on every journey, ready to take part in any trip, even under water. It is powered by an automatic POWERMATIC 80.611 calibre.

TEN TIPS

FOR CHOOSING A UNIQUE WEDDING RING

A SYMBOL OF A LIFE LIVED TOGETHER, A WEDDING RING IS MORE THAN JUST A SIMPLE PIECE OF JEWELLERY, BECAUSE, IN THEORY, YOU WILL BE WEARING THIS RING FOR THE REST OF YOUR LIFE. IT IS THEREFORE CRUCIAL THAT YOU TAKE TIME WHEN MAKING YOUR SELECTION.

1 Give yourself enough time

Getting married often entails a lot of preparation and stress. Take the time to choose your wedding rings carefully, and keep in mind that it takes three to five weeks to make a custom-made ring.

2. Durability, quality and personality: favour custom-made

If there is an item on which you cannot afford to compromise on quality it's your wedding ring. Opt for a ring made especially to fit your finger designed to last as long as your love.

3. Try on your wedding ring at the shop

Combining personalised advice and an array of choices, a jewellery shop is a place designed to help you find the piece of your dreams. The intimate setting and the jeweller's suggestions will give you a taste of the magical atmosphere of your wedding. Make the decision with your future spouse and decide together which ring will unite you.

4. Don't forget your engagement ring when trying on your wedding ring

Whether you decide to wear your engagement ring on the same finger or on the other hand, bring it to the shop with you to explore all the possible combinations.

5. Keep the weather in mind when measuring the size of your ring finger

Indeed, heat swells the finger. There can be an up to three size difference in ring size between winter and summer. Keep this factor in mind when you go to try on your wedding ring.

6. Take into account your skin tone and tanning habits when choosing a gold colour that suits you best

Yellow gold pairs beautifully with olive skin, while rose gold goes better with fair skin. The most versatile option is white gold, which suits all skin types.

7. Think about your lifestyle to choose a piece of jewellery that works with your habits

If you only get married once, you'll be wearing your wedding ring your entire life. Before making your choice, tell the salesperson if you work outdoors or with your hands. In that case, we would recommend a ring entirely in gold and with a medium width rather than a slim or diamond-set ring.

8. Should we choose the same wedding ring?

That's up to you. While many couples opt for the same piece of jewellery, if you don't have the same tastes, the same habits or the same skin tones, don't be afraid to choose two different wedding rings.

9. Personalise your ring

In addition to the choice of colour or the width of the model, you can personalise your wedding ring with an engraving. Your initials, a message... Be creative!

10. Recycled gold is the way to go

Gold mining involves the use of large amounts of water, cyanide and mercury and generates mining waste and water pollution. Why favour irresponsible gold practices when you can choose "green" gold for a happy marriage on a sustainable planet!

MODALO Watch Winder Ambiente MV4

A self-winding watch stops when it has not been worn for a while. In such cases, the watch must be hand wound when the person wants to wear it again, a task that can be tedious and even risky. This is where the winder comes in, a device used to automatically wind the mainspring by reproducing the wrist's natural movement. Moreover, it is very simple to use the watch winder – all you have to do is place your watch on the holder and insert everything into the winder, thus keeping the time and other functions set and extending the life of your timepiece. In addition to its convenience and practicality, the winder is also an attractive accessory that in itself serves as a case for the watch it houses. Exceptionally elaborate models are also decorative items.

MODALO Ambiente 2 Mv4 Black Makassar

MODALO is a leader in certified watch winders. Timeless design, high-quality materials and excellent craftsmanship are elements that have made the brand's watch winders must-have items for watch collectors. This winder is especially delightful with its elegant lines that will go perfectly with any interior! You will also love the fact that you will always have a unique view of your two favourite timepieces!

Swiss Kubik Startbox

Acidulous, sober, bright or fun, the watch winders of the Startbox range use fresh colours and modern, refined lines. Simplified down to the last detail, these watch winders combine design and functionality. Their Soft Touch surface makes them incredibly smooth to the touch.

Nyhavn – The new harbour and its colourful buildings
To soak up the Copenhagen atmosphere, there's nothing better than starting with a walk along the canals of the new harbour. Breathe in the Baltic air while admiring the sailboats moored to the quays and the pretty colourful houses of this picture-perfect setting. A red-light district in the old days, despite its name (which literally means new harbour), Nyhavn is actually not new at all and in its former life was a hot spot of debauchery frequented by drunk sailors and ladies of pleasure. Today, there are no sailors on the café terraces, but you can still enjoy a cold one while snacking on herring. The chilly need not fret – outside tables are heated and provided with blankets.

Kastellet and the Little Mermaid

Some 20 minutes on foot (and a bit less by bike) from Nyhavn is a star-shaped fortress turned park which includes a lovely windmill and a church. Opposite, on her rock, the bronze Little Mermaid pays tribute to her creator, Hans Christian Andersen, a long-time resident of the harbour district.

Østerbro, the pretty district

With its art galleries and small shops, Østerbro is an upper middle class neighbourhood which exudes a chic and relaxed atmosphere. Home to Europe's longest pedestrian shopping street, it is a hotspot for Nordic design. Must-visit shops? Illums Bolighus, a household furnishings store focused on modern Scandinavian design. And for more traditional items, Royal Copenhagen, a fully-fledged institution that has been manufacturing porcelain products for nearly 250 years.

Nørrebro, a bohemian hub

Nørrebro is one of Copenhagen's last popular working-class neighbourhoods. It is home to a mix of students and immigrants, and its relatively low prices have made it a new hipster district. With its thrift stores, flea markets and charity shops, it is sure to please responsible shoppers!

DIAMONDS

ARE FOREVER

THE DIAMOND, THE MOST PRECIOUS GEMSTONE IN THE WORLD, HAS ALWAYS CAPTIVATED AND ATTRACTED OUR DESIRES. TODAY, COLOURED DIAMONDS ARE PARTICULARLY FASHIONABLE, CARVING OUT THEIR PLACE IN THE WORLD OF LUXURY. DISCOVER THE GEMSTONE THAT NEVER CEASES TO BE THE TALK OF THE TOWN!

A transparent mineral composed of pure carbon crystals, the diamond is one of the four precious stones.

How to choose a diamond

First of all, you should know that the more intense the colour of a coloured diamond is, the more valuable it will be. This is the absolute opposite of colourless diamonds, which are prized for their total absence of colour and their crystalline transparency. Their quality and value are determined by a set of criteria known as the 4Cs of diamonds. This refers to the colour, cut, clarity and carat weight.

Colour:

The internationally-recognised colour scale for white diamonds is comprised of 23 colour grades going from D (perfectly white diamonds) to Z. Only gemmologists are able to recognise the nuances existing between one grade and the next. To help tell them apart, diamonds are divided into five colour categories ranging from perfectly white (or colourless) to light yellow.

Clarity:

All diamonds have imperfections, which are in fact inclusions at the heart of the diamond's structure that occur when the stone is formed. A diamond's purity is determined by looking at the stone under a special light using a magnifying glass with a 10x magnification rate. In most cases, impurities are neither visible to the naked eye nor affect a diamond's brilliance.

Cut:

It refers to the angles and proportions of a diamond. Based on complex scientific formulas, a very well cut diamond will reflect light from one facet to another and scatter it. If the work is well done, the stone will have optimal brilliance, called the «fire» of the diamond. It is the only one of the four evaluation criteria that depends on human skill. The quality of the cut, which will maximise the brilliance of the diamond, does not depend on the shape that the diamond will have (round-cut, princess-cut, pear-shaped, baguette-cut, cushion-shaped, etc.).

Carat:

A carat is a unit of measurement used for diamonds. One carat equals 0.20 grams. This classification criterion is the easiest one to understand, because it depends on the dimensions of the stone. The more a diamond weighs, the more expensive it will be.

QLOCKTWO'S MOVING PAINTINGS

THE GERMAN DESIGNERS AT QLOCKTWO, THE INSTIGATORS OF A LITTLE WATCHMAKING REVOLUTION, OFFER A TYPOGRAPHIC DISPLAY THAT IGNORES CONVENTION.

An invitation to ponder the notion of time, which no longer scrolls as fast as it does on a traditional clock, and to literally “read the time”. The words shown on the clock face change every five minutes. There are illuminated dots in each corner representing the minutes in between with radio-controlled precision.

QLOCKTWO CLASSIC: Rust, Stainless Steel, Black Iced Tea, White or Black Pepper, the variations of time...

With their unique front panel and magnetic stainless steel core, the creations by QLOCKTWO feature a patina resulting from a process that, according to creator Marco Biegert, “creates intense, natural colour impressions”.

Depending on the perspective and lighting conditions, the clock shimmers to display its unique hours.

The rust or stainless steel options are great for adding an industrial touch to an interior, while the black or white options are perfect for an elegant, understated feel.

The models have a crescendo alarm function with touch control and can be adjusted using push-buttons or a smartphone.

They elegantly blend with any interior, whether at the office, on the bedside table or hanging on the wall, as preferred.

Qlocktwo clocks are handcrafted in Germany and come in a wide variety of languages and materials. Each has its own serial number.

Founded by the designers Marco Biegert and Andreas Funk, Qlocktwo has won a number of prestigious awards, including the Good Design Award and the Red Dot Award, thanks to the originality of a display that breaks all watchmaking conventions.

Breitling reinvents the Chronomat

A pioneer in the field, Breitling has been supporting aviators for 80 years and is now offering a new lease of life to one the favourite models of pilots, the legendary Chronomat. Nearly 40 years after its release, the timepiece has been redesigned in order to appeal to a new generation of men and women of purpose, action and style. Available in a wide range of materials, including stainless steel and 18-carat red gold, the Chronomat is fitted with a 42 mm case and a bezel with four rider tabs. The timepiece also comes in a variety of dial options, including black, blue, silver and bronze, and is presented on a Rouleaux bracelet. It is powered by the COSC chronometer-certified Breitling Manufacture Caliber 01.

The TAG Heuer Autavia is back on track

A contraction of the words AUTOMobile and AVIation, the Autavia is forging a renewed path toward popularity with a new collection presented at the latest edition of Baselworld. It comes in seven variations, all of which are three-hand with date models measuring 42 mm in diameter that are water resistant to 100 metres and feature Arabic numerals, large luminous hands and an oversized crown. A noteworthy innovation for TAG Heuer, the collection includes two models crafted in bronze. In addition, behind the case back engraved with a car tyre and propeller hides the COSC-certified automatic Calibre 5 with a 38-hour power reserve.

Take to the skies with the Oris Big Crown ProPilot Altimeter

With this generously sized timepiece measuring 47 mm in diameter and 55 mm from lug to lug, Oris is once again demonstrating its expertise in pilot's watches. The thick luminous hands make for excellent visibility in low light conditions like night flying and the large numerals ensure that the time can easily be read in all circumstances. Meanwhile, the bezel draws its inspiration from the shape and design of jet turbine engines and features a nice coined edge. In addition, the two oversized crowns (which are hallmarks of the Big Crown collection) are used to set the time and date at 2 o'clock and to calibrate the altimeter that measures changes in barometric pressure at 4 o'clock. The outer ring shows altitude while the inner ring displays air pressure. The timepiece is driven by Oris calibre 733, a self-winding movement with a power reserve of approximately 38 hours, and attached to a fabric strap or steel bracelet.

Longines Avigation BigEye: Paris – New York, New York – Paris

Since its inception, Longines, the official timekeeper of the first solo transatlantic flight by Charles Lindbergh, has contributed to great aeronautical feats. Inspired by a 1930s chronograph, the Longines Avigation BigEye draws on the brand's heritage to create a collection that helps pilots conquer the skies. It is equipped with a column-wheel movement made exclusively for Longines. Its stainless steel case with a nearly 41 mm diameter and its ergonomic lugs are paired with a graceful soft leather strap with a pin buckle that enhances the comfort of the timepiece. With just one look, the watch brings to mind the charm of a bygone era.

The 72 hours cabin experience

THE 72 HOURS CABIN

AN IMMERSION IN SWEDISH NATURE

Tea time in the wild

THE 72 HOURS CABIN IS THE RESULT OF AN EXPERIMENT CARRIED OUT IN 2017 TO DEMONSTRATE THE POSITIVE EFFECTS OF NATURE ON STRESS AND ANXIETY. IN 72 HOURS, THE STRESS LEVELS OF FIVE CITY-DWELLERS WHO CAME TO PARTICIPATE DECREASED BY 70%.

Imagine falling asleep at the edge of the forest in a wood cabin whose glass walls and roof offer a 360-degree view of the stars and surrounding nature

And for good reason. Imagine falling asleep at the edge of the forest in a wood cabin whose glass walls and roof offer a 360-degree view of the stars and surrounding nature.

Kayaking, archery, angling, hiking with or without a forest guide... Your days will be full. Insomniacs will quickly rediscover sleep, with heavy eyelids and sore muscles leading the way.

The 72 Hours Cabin on Henriksholm Island in Ånimskog

The five original cabins are located about two hours from Göteborg Airport on the small island of Henrkisholm, which is a sort of miniature Sweden with its elongated shape and ecosystems specific to this Scandinavian country. In this haven of peace, you will have the chance to observe deer, foxes, badgers and perhaps a woodpecker.

The 72 Hours Cabin at the Baldersnäs Herrgård manor house in the area of Dals Långed

The cabins have since grown up, and other cabins have popped up on the shores of Lake Laxsjön and in the heart of the stunning Dalsland region. If you choose to stay near the Baldersnäs Herrgård manor house, you will overlook an extraordinarily beautiful lake and be able to take advantage of all the manor house amenities: sauna, delicious dinners... This is the formula for epicureans.

If you choose to stay near the Dalslands Aktiviteter activities centre, you will enjoy a wonderful view of Lake Iväg and the surrounding woods from a perched level of some 40 metres above the lake. A paradise for water lovers, the region is home to the largest lakes in Europe as well as to many rivers and canals. A breathtaking setting where the kayak is king and which will remind book lovers of the landscapes of Tolkien's stories. The Hangang is the country's second longest river and supplies water to Seoul's 10 million residents.

ORIS HANGANG LIMITED EDITION

TIME TO CLEAN UP

ORIS FURTHER PURSUES ITS ENVIRONMENTAL COMMITMENT BY PARTNERING UP WITH SEOUL KFEM, AN ENTITY OF THE KOREAN FEDERATION FOR ENVIRONMENTAL MOVEMENTS.

Oris Hangang Limited Edition case back

Oris once again stands out for its dedication to cleaning, protecting and restoring the quality of the Earth's water.

Oris Hangang Limited Edition

Change for the Better

To support this new cause, the watchmaker created the Oris Hangang Limited Edition, a watch that seeks to raise public awareness about the fate of the Hangang in South Korea, which is the country's second longest river and supplies water to Seoul's 10 million residents.

Years of neglect have made the river dirty and polluted, which means that it is in desperate need of cleaning. "With every passing year, we grow more passionate about our mission," says Oris Co-CEO Rolf Studer. "Conserving the world's water is critical; it's also possible if we work together." This Oris commitment is not new, as evidenced by the series of limited edition Oris Aquis diving watches aimed at supporting various programmes to protect the oceans. Sales from the 2,000 pieces in this collection will help fund the Hangang clean-up project. The model is inspired by the Aquis diving watch and features the same functions and performance.

A diving watch to safeguard the aquatic world

The timepiece has a 43.5 mm stainless steel case and a unidirectional rotating bezel, which is very useful for safely determining and displaying dive times. The dark green colour of the ceramic insert and dial is reminiscent of the creek waters at the source of the Hangang. The piece is water resistant to 300 metres (30 bar) and contains an automatic Oris 743 movement with small seconds at 9 o'clock and a white circular date indicator. The case back is engraved with the course of the Hangang across Korea and the limited edition number. Its generous power reserve ensures a running time of 38 hours. The model is attached to a stainless steel bracelet closed by a safety folding clasp with extension.

LONGINES SPIRIT

THE WINGED HOURGLASS IS TAKING FLIGHT

Longines Spirit L3.810.4.73.2

In the eyes of collectors and aviation enthusiasts, the models in the Longines Spirit collection retain the essence of the brand's precision instruments, having accompanied the pioneers in the conquest of the air, sea and land while also incorporating the technical advances of our century.

Building on this heritage, these timepieces are inspired by the build of pilot's watches and attractively equipped with contemporary watchmaking codes. The large crown, the flange, the bezel set back from the side of the case middle, the font on the dial, the diamond-shape indexes and the large luminous "baton" hands are all elements inspired by aviation that entail a vibrant tribute to this realm and its daring pioneers.

Two exclusive automatic movements now power the latest additions to the collection, the L888.4 and the L688.4. They are fitted with silicon hairsprings, build up a respective power reserve of 64 and 60 hours and are chronometer certified by the COSC*.

The three hand/calendar version comes in a case measuring 40 and 42 mm in diameter, respectively. Meanwhile, the chronograph is housed in a uniquely shaped 42 mm case. All the models have a domed sapphire glass that protects a matte black, grained silver or sunray blue dial. Moreover, each of the dial is stamped with five applied stars, denoting an improvement in the quality of the brand's movements. Five stars is the maximum number that can be achieved.

The case is set on a steel bracelet or on a leather strap in dark brown, light brown or blue. The "Prestige" edition of the three-hand/calendar model comes with three interchangeable straps (steel, leather and NATO in brown leather).

In 1983, a Seiko 600m diver's watch was attached to the research submersible Shinkai 2000 to test its durability. It exceeded expectations withstanding water pressure at a remarkable depth of 1,062m. Today's Prospex diver's watches are also built to challenge the oceans' depths. Experience counts.

Long-lasting workmanship and age-old traditions

Made from high-quality, natural, traditional materials, a Sami handcrafted item is an excellent gift that is both durable and environmentally friendly, two themes which are crucial to the survival of these indigenous peoples whose land is constantly being threatened in order to be exploited.

Sami slöjd, or handicraft, is divided into two categories, hard handicrafts and soft handicrafts. The first, which is traditionally reserved for men, primarily consists of knives, bowls and cups with engraved reindeer horn. Meanwhile, the second is traditionally for women and includes wool clothing, tin wire jewellery, and bags and baskets woven from birch roots.

Where to buy Sami handicrafts

Sami handicraft items can be purchased in the northern regions of Sweden and mainly in the towns and villages of Lapland. If you are in Kiruna, the largest town in Lapland, visit the Carl Wennberg shop, which has been selling Sami handicrafts since 1907. If you are in Stockholm, be sure to visit the retailer Svensk Hemslöjd specialising in traditional arts and crafts.

If you are fortunate enough to be staying at the iconic ICEHOTEL in Jukkasjärvi, visit the hotel's shop, which sells a wide selection of Sami items.

Jokkmokk winter market

The Jokkmokk winter market, held yearly in late January/early February, is a great place to find Sami handicrafts, as it is the largest Sami gathering in the world. This arts and crafts market has been taking place for the past 400 years. There is probably no better place to experience Sami culture and buy items directly from the local craftsperson. It is also a wonderful opportunity to discover their vivid clothing, music, dance and food, which are part of a colourful culture that is unfortunately being threatened by the modern world, despite the fact that the Sami people are recognised as an indigenous people by the UN with their own flag, anthem and official language divided into nine dialects.

Trehotel: entire days in the trees

Could it be the influence of Pippi Longstocking and her penchant for adventures or simply the expression of a deep love of nature? As it happens, the Swedes know a thing or two about treehouses, and the Treehotel project embodies a childhood dream come true. The UFO, the Bird's Nest, the Cabin perched 10 metres above the ground with a view of the Northern Lights... every guestroom has a unique architectural identity. While the sauna, the range of organic beauty products and the 1950s-style restaurant whose menu revolves around the fish and catch of the day are simply the icing on this lovely Scandinavian cake.

Stedsans in the Woods: the cabin at the end of the garden

In Danish, Stedsans means a sense of direction. However, sometimes it is by losing oneself that one finds oneself. Mette Helbæk and Flemming Schiøtt Hansen, the founders of this wonderful hotel and restaurant, have taken this to heart and offer a complete sensory adventure in the heart of this Swedish land at their retreat in Halland. What's it all about? Vegetarian cuisine, local products from the site's permaculture farm, swimming in the lake, nights in comfortable wood cabins, a floating sauna...

Bergaliv Loft House: full-scale relaxation

This amazing loft with the look of a large cabin offers splendid views of the forest and the Nordic skies and is located close to a spa where you can get a wonderful Swedish massage. Perfect for getting a breath of fresh air and returning revitalised.

THE SAUNA

OR THE SWEDISH ART OF GOOD LIVING

AN ANCIENT TRADITION IN SCANDINAVIAN COUNTRIES, THE BASTU OR SAUNA IS A RITUAL IN ITS OWN RIGHT. HEAT, STEAM, SCENTS... ALL OF YOUR SENSES WILL BE AWAKENED DURING A MOMENT OF RELAXATION TO ENJOY ALONE, AMONG FRIENDS OR WITH FAMILY.

Traditional sauna

The Swedes are highly keen on this practice, going to the sauna to relax, but also because of its social facet: you can go there for a chat, for a business meeting or even to have a craft beer outside. Nudity is the norm, although some saunas allow for the use of a swimming costume and have schedules for single-sex use. A quick overview.

Step by step

Before entering the sauna, you first take a dip in ice-cold water, whether in the snow, in an ice hole or in a pool designed for this purpose. It is only after this first step that it is time to head to the log cabin that has been heated to a temperature ranging from 80 to 100 degrees Celsius. After spending some time in the sauna, you go back into the ice-cold water before moisturising your body with a suitable lotion.

The sauna, beneficial against fatigue and stress

By loosening up your muscles through the use of heat, saunas allow your body to relax and significantly reduce fatigue. Moreover, by increasing blood flow and providing oxygen and nutrients to muscles, the heat of a sauna also enhances

Glowing skin

During a session, the skin's pores open as a result of the heat, which subsequently helps to eliminate toxins and dead skin. By combining a sauna session with exfoliation, your skin will undergo a deep cleansing that will restore softness and elasticity. Do not forget to drink plenty of fluids to prevent dehydration.

Ribersborgs Kallbadhus, an open-air bathhouse

Are you looking for a unique experience in Sweden? Ribersborgs Kallbadhus, or Kallis as the locals call it, will definitely leave you with great memories. This open-air bath near Ribersborgs beach in Malmö is an oasis of well-being visited by locals and visitors alike who want to fully experience Swedish sauna bathing and/or ice swimming.

It has five saunas, two seawater pools, two wood-fired hot tubs and a sun deck. The Belle Époque inspired facilities will transport you to another time, in deep communion with nature.

Divided into two sections, for men, for women and one shared sauna, Kallis is open all year round for you to experience a truly Nordic style sauna. After spending time in the sauna, it is possible to enjoy traditional Swedish food like herring or prawn sandwiches and salads.

Limhamnsvägen, Brygga 1, 217 59 Malmö.

Pålshöbaden

Located along the promenade north of Gröningen, Pålshöbaden bathhouse is the perfect place to enjoy dry and wet saunas before taking a dip in the Öresund. Harry Rydberg, son of the founder of Rydbergs Ur and a serious sauna enthusiast, went bathing at Pålshöbaden every week for almost 30 years! Beyond physical recovery, the sauna provides above all for deep psychological relaxation, thus allowing the mind to let go and escape from everyday life for a few moments.

GEMSTONES

AND BIRTH MONTHS

SINCE ANCIENT TIMES, PRECIOUS STONES HAVE BEEN ASSOCIATED WITH ASTROLOGY AND THOUGHT TO HAVE THERAPEUTIC POWERS. THE CUSTOM OF ASSOCIATING A GEMSTONE WITH A PERSON'S BIRTH MONTH BECAME MORE WIDESPREAD IN THE 18TH CENTURY; HOWEVER, IT WAS NOT UNTIL 1912 THAT THE FIRST OFFICIAL LIST OF BIRTHSTONES WAS DRAWN UP BY THE US TRADE ORGANISATION JEWELERS OF AMERICA, A LIST THAT WAS SUBSEQUENTLY ACCEPTED BY THE JEWELLERY INDUSTRY COUNCIL IN 1952. SINCE THEN, THE ONLY CHANGE TO THE LIST DID NOT COME UNTIL THE YEAR 2002, WHEN TANZANITE WAS MADE THE BIRTHSTONE FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

January: garnet. It is a symbol of energy and embodies loyalty and truth.

February: amethyst. It is a luminous quartz that evokes clairvoyance and sincerity.

March: aquamarine. A symbol of calm and serenity.

April: diamond. It represents eternal love and purity, as well as strength and courage.

May: emerald. It is a precious good luck charm that has soothing properties.

June: pearl, alexandrite and moonstone. These are neutral-coloured stones that symbolise sensuality and femininity.

July: ruby. It represents divine love and courage.

August: peridot. It brings joy and inner peace and keeps bad luck at bay.

September: sapphire. Symbolising truth and loyalty, it is also associated with wisdom.

October: tourmaline and opal. They are soothing stones that also have the property of boosting self-confidence.

November: citrine and topaz. These stones bring joy and ward off bad thoughts.

December: tanzanite, turquoise and zircon. Symbols of loyalty, they are also associated with wealth and peace.

“I can remember a few times when I have been so happy that I have hardly known what to do with myself. It was as if I were laughing aloud in my very soul.” Astrid Lindgren – The Brothers Lionheart.

Pair white with pastel colours

Nordic style makes the most of neutral shades like white and grey or the ageless black and white duo. However, pastels are also welcome to add a kick to your décor and give it a touch of sweetness. These colours can easily be made to work when used for small touches (a pillow, a frame, a candleholder...). To enhance luminosity, we suggest using white as the predominant tone and spicing things up with notes of colour here and there.

Interior design focused on cocooning

Do you know what hygge is all about? A philosophy of life that seeks to glorify the small moments of relaxation at home in the heart of winter, such as an evening by the fireplace, a rainy afternoon watching TV series or reading a good book wrapped up in a blanket. Rooted in the national character of the Danish (whose country is constantly ranking as the happiest in the world), hygge is at the centre of Scandinavian style. Pillows, blankets, fluffy rugs... Wellbeing reigns!

Long-lasting materials and natural insulators

Drawing its inspiration from 1950s homes lost in the middle of pine forests, Nordic style uses long-lasting materials like wood, which is also the most effective natural insulator. Its warm colours underline the comforting nature of Scandinavian design. Meanwhile, when it comes to objects, they don't think twice about hunting for dishes at a flea market or using previously used materials: wooden planks for shelves, wicker baskets with blankets peeking out of them, retro armchairs to contrast with a rustic sideboard.

The Portugieser Chronograph, with its clean, eminently legible dial, is a direct reminder of this heritage. At the same time, the two recessed subdials and the flange with its printed quarter-second scale imbue this timelessly elegant watch with a distinctive, sporty flair. This design classic is now powered by the IWC-manufactured 69355 calibre, which is visible through a transparent back cover. And with a precision instrument like this on your wrist, you can be sure of navigating your way through life with stylish understatement. IWC. ENGINEERING DREAMS. SINCE 1868.
